

The Board of Trade

On Friday night the annual meeting of the Board of Trade will be held and it is to be hoped that there will be a strong and interested attendance. The annual meeting, more than any other, calls for such a gesture though it can be emphasized incidentally that encouraging attendance at every session throughout the year would yield handsome dividends to the community. At this time, however, new executive officers are being chosen and it behooves every interested member to have his part in the framing of the board's personnel. What's more, a good meeting launches such new officers under the best of auspices.

The Kelowna Board of Trade has an admirable record of achievement to its credit. Next to the City Council, it is the most important organization functioning in the interests of this city. Every businessman, every professional man, every retailer should be a member of this organization. If such were the case the Board could go forward to still greater work on behalf of Kelowna citizens.

There are, of course, in this city, as in all cities, those who stand back and criticize, rather than giving their support to such organizations as the Board of Trade. Their criticism is misdirected. The fault, if fault there is, lies not with those who are willing to shoulder the burden of administration, but with the slack disinterest of those who refrain from playing their part.

It is not for the leaders to lead the membership around by their noses, to artificially whip up stimulating debates and discussions, to pamper with programs and entertainment. Rather, it is for the members to interest themselves in the city and its future, and to support any executive by interested attendance and constant participation.

Such policy, by board members as a whole, will pay off in the general advancement of co-operative spirit. And the paradox of it is that this will yield individual gains that otherwise alone seem to occupy us.

Friday night meeting is a good time to start building this spirit on a high level.

Let's Get On With It

(Penticton Herald)

At some time in this coming year, it is sincerely to be hoped, the fog now hanging over the Okanagan flood control project will lift, and actual work, at long last, will be under way.

For some time there has been head-scratching about a question of fish ladders. The clearing away of this obstacle, it such it is, could be accomplished rapidly enough if the people of the Okanagan reached a unanimous determination as to what they want, and expressed themselves forcibly through their various local governments and other agencies. Here, for example, is one issue that united boards of trade throughout the Okanagan proper could well consider. But, so far, as anything reaches the Herald's ears, there seems little interest from any quarter.

What is the result? The inaction that Ottawa seems well satisfied to cultivate, just so long as it can find comfortable reason for continuing delay.

The delay is serious enough in itself. But it is also to be remembered that delay in this matter can have its consequences on other plans.

What about the West Bench development? Sooner or later this will reach some sort of fruition, though its whole story seems to be one more reminder of the glacier-like pace of public projects. When that time does come, however, it might well be that the irrigation of that West Bench will then be held up because the intake for its pumping will have to be from the channel of Okanagan river—and the flood control work won't have got around to the permanent new channel, even by that date.

Ferries And Toll Bridges

(Chilliwack Progress)

Many people are in favor of toll bridges until the structures are built and then there is a persistent campaign to have the tolls removed. The Pattullo bridge is an instance of this quirk on the part of the public. A toll is a direct tax and few persons like to pay a direct levy whether for the benefit of their own neighborhood, such as municipal levies, income tax, or a sales tax where the amount is shown on the bill. Wrapped up in a package of cigarettes, for example, few are heard to complain. The pill, coated in the form of duty, excise and such forms of levy, just seems easier to swallow.

The pressure of tolls on succeeding governments provides one of the hazards of Hon. E. C. Carson's plan to replace costly ferry services with bridges. The minister's proposal has much merit. Ferry service, at best, is annoying, inadequate, and according to figures released by Mr. Carson, costly.

One of British Columbia's greatest needs is more and better roads, but the problem facing the one million persons spread over its enormous area, is to find the money necessary. Roads, no matter how extensive or good, are but partially effective if connecting links are missing or inadequate.

Until we have four or five times our present population we suggest that we add bridges to our highway system and pay for them as we use them. In this effort we will receive an ever increasing subsidy from others than British Columbians. Issuance of further figures on ferry capital investment and operating costs on the one hand and cost, interest charges, and toll collecting outlay for bridges, by Hon. Mr. Carson might help ferry and bridge conscious British Columbians to go along with him on a toll bridge program.

RUTLAND MAN HEADS COUNCIL

N. J. Waddington, of Rutland, was elected chairman of the central district council of the B.C.F.G.A. (Kelowna and district), at the annual meeting held in the B.C. Tree Fruits Board room. He succeeds Ken Young, while Fred Stevens was elected to fill the position of secretary, held last year by M. L. Kulpers. J. B. Lander, sales manager, B.C. Tree Fruits, addressed the meeting.

Veteran Ferry Employee Makes Final Run Tonight Ending Colorful Career

GEORGE "GOODIE" GOODISON ... makes final run tonight

A veteran ferry employee, George "Goodie" Goodison, will make his last run tonight, and when the Kelowna-Westbank ferry ties up at the wharf at 11:05 p.m., it will mark the termination of a colorful career on sea and inland waters.

But despite the fact he has reached the superannuation age of 65, "Goodie" plans to go "job hunting" again to keep himself occupied.

With the ferry service since September, 1939, he has become known "from here to India," according to his skipper. American tourists refer to him as the "nautical guy with the hirsute adornments" who told them about the time he had Geopogo tied up at the ferry dock for four days.

Kelowna Booster

A born booster for Kelowna, especially in the summer when tourist traffic is heavy, "Goodie" received a tribute from his skipper and the crew just prior to going on duty for the last time about three o'clock this afternoon. In a simple little ceremony, Bill Short presented him with an easy chair as a token of goodwill from all his fellow crew members.

A Yorkshireman, George Goodison was born in Stanning, Sheffield, in 1885 and followed various occupations until he joined the Royal Navy at the age of 18. After four years in China and the East, during which time he also visited other parts of the world, Mr. Goodison was in South America on his way home at the outbreak of the First World War.

Ordered to stay out there, he says (Turn to Page 8, Story 2)

Federal Gov't Will Reveal Stand Growers' Assistance in Two Weeks

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S fruit industry will know within the next two weeks what assistance it may expect from the federal government regarding last winter's frost damage.

As the 62nd annual convention of the BCFGA drew to a close in Vernon Thursday afternoon, a letter was read from B.C.'s minister of agriculture, Hon. Harry Bowman, stating the federal cabinet will consider the request as soon as Hon. Douglas Abbott, minister of finance, and Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of trade and commerce, return from England.

Mr. Bowman returned to Victoria last Tuesday after interviewing federal minister of agriculture, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, and immediately conferred with members of the B.C. cabinet. He declined to reveal what his department or the B.C. government is considering as aid, pending word from Ottawa.

It has been learned from well-informed sources, however, that some aid can be expected for farmers who were completely wiped out as a result of the killing frost. Orchardists who lost a number of trees, but who are able to continue in the fruit-growing business, cannot expect financial aid, the same reliable quarters stated.

HOCKEY FAN FINED AFTER DISTURBANCE

Jan L. Wallace, Vernon, Friday was assessed a $15 fine and costs of $11.50, when he was convicted on a charge of having created a disturbance in a public place.

Appearing before Magistrate A. D. Marshall in city police court Friday morning, Wallace pleaded not guilty to the charge that arose following an incident in Memorial Arena on Jan. 11.

Before a packed courtroom the hearing went on until late in the afternoon. In his defence, Wallace's counsel, C. W. Morrow, Vernon, M.L.A. (North Okanagan), called on several witnesses.

As soon as the case was dealt with, Magistrate Marshall began hearing the second charge arising out of the same incident.

Still in Progress

A Linwood Wallace, also of Vernon, pleaded innocent to a charge of obstructing a police officer in the performance of his duty. Hearing was adjourned Friday and resumed this morning. At press time this afternoon court was still in progress.

It is understood a charge of common assault has been preferred by Wallace against Sgt. R. B. McKay, NCO in charge of the local R.C.M.P. detachment, but the information (summons) had not been served up to press time.

E. C. Weddell, K.C., is acting as crown counsel in the Rex vs. Wallace case. He also acted for the prosecution in the Rex vs. Wallace hearing.

Mutual problems were discussed by poultrymen, and Percy Anstey gave a short talk on brooding chicks. A film was shown on the same subject.

Future meetings will be held the second Tuesday of each month at 8 o'clock in the board room of Tree Fruits.

Retail Price Of Milk May Be Increased

Retail price of milk in the Kelowna area will probably jump two cents a quart if local creameries meet the request of producers for a raise in price to conform with the B.C. price prevailing in other areas of the province.

Producers complain that production costs are up, while the local retail price is considerably below that of other milk producing areas. Milk is now selling at 17 and 19 cents a quart in Kelowna which is two cents a quart less than in Vancouver and four cents less than in Victoria.

A spokesman for one wholesale house admitted a price increase has been discussed, and that the two-cent increase would probably be split between the producer and the wholesaler.

"He advised that I would be notified definitely as to what action the dominion would take not later than the end of the first week in February. Until some time as we hear from Mr. Gardiner, we are unable to state what assistance, if any, may be forthcoming."

A few minutes earlier, a resolution was submitted by Vernon-Salmon Arm locals to the effect the BCFGA emergency winter damage committee and the BCFGA executive be commended for their efforts to secure relief for the growers and that they continue their efforts.

Vitality Interest

Ivor J. Newman, BCFGA president, remarked that the resolution was brought forward for the benefit of the newspapers. "We had no resolution to this effect because we thought it impossible we could get through this three-day convention without hearing from Victoria on this matter," he said.

The resolution was consequently brought forward to show that growers are still vitally interested.

Research Fund of $5,000 Authorized By BCFGA in Effort to Find Suitable And Cheaper Container for Products

DESIGNED to reduce costs of placing produce in the hands of consumers, delegates attending the 62nd annual convention of the BCFGA authorized the expenditure of $5,000 for research into finding suitable and cheaper containers.

A resolution submitted by the Osoyoos local pointed out that there has been a steady increase in the price of box shooks and a spokesman said costs of handling and packing were increasing "at an alarming rate."

George Barratt, B. C. Tree Fruits, stated thousands of dollars are being spent south of the border for research on boxes, and he thought the B. C. Research Council, recently set up in the province, could do a great deal in solving the problem. He did not think $5,000 was out of line as he pointed out research is a costly undertaking.

New Materials

George Fitzgerald, Kelowna, chairman of the box shooks committee, said the industry has been in close touch with firms manufacturing new materials which may be used for boxes. Claude H. Taylor, South Kelowna, was in favor of improving the container.

Growers also authorized the earmarking of $5,000 to the Dominion Experimental Station at Summerland to aid in research on fruit growing problems. Another resolution instructed officials to make a $2,000 contribution to the B. C. Federation of Agriculture, along with the 75 cents per capita membership fee.

Delegates also asked for the automatic application of dumping duties when the price of imported fruits and vegetables fall below the cost of production in Canada, or when the commodity is subsidized in the country of origin; and that the dumping duties be applicable for two weeks before the time when a Canadian commodity is expected to be on the market in reasonable volume.

Another resolution asked that nursery stock be government inspected and certified as to truthness to name or root stock and variety and also freedom from diseases. A further resolution asked the federal government to aid in research on fruit growing problems. Another resolution instructed officials to make a $2,000 contribution to the B. C. Federation of Agriculture, along with the 75 cents per capita membership fee.

FLYING OFFICER LLOYD SKAAEN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Skaaen, 2247 Woodlawn, is a member of Canada's Red Indian fighter squadron, crack RCAF jet outfit, now doing operational training at British air bases. It is the first time a Canadian air unit has been based outside the country in peacetime.

Born in Tofield, Alta., F/O Skaaen came to Kelowna with his parents in 1948. After completing his education at University High School, Edmonton, he joined the RCAF in December, 1948. He joined the jet squadron in the spring of this year.

F/O Skaaen was one of two B.C. boys who were picked out as jet pilots after completing his advanced training course.

DEATH CALLS RETIRED MAN, THOMAS ALTON

Thomas Alton, who came to Kelowna last October to retire after 45 years in the lumber business in both Canada, Alaska, and the United States, died at his home, 935 Borden Avenue, on Sunday. Born in Lucknow, Ont., he was 80 years of age.

Ven. D. S. Catchpole, of St. Michael and All Angels' Church, will officiate at the funeral on Thursday at 2 p.m. from the chapel of Day's Funeral Service. Interment will be in Kelowna cemetery.

Active despite his years, the late Mr. Alton stayed in business until he sold out his Columbia Valley interests last August, coming here shortly afterwards with Mrs. Alton.

Besides his wife he leaves three sons and two daughters—Leslie, Kelowna; Howard and Allen, of Field, B.C.; Jean, Kelowna; and Mrs. R. (Ida) Cunningham, Crescent Valley, B.C.

Also surviving are three brothers: Dan Alton, Vancouver; Robert Alton, Edmonton; and Joseph Alton, Lamont, Alta.; one sister, Mrs. Petrie, Edmonton; two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

CANCER GROUP MEETS TUESDAY

Annual meeting of the Kelowna Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society, will be held in the board room of B. G. Tree Fruits Ltd., tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Kelowna Going All Out To Get More Industries Here

Kelowna invites industry and is going all out to get it!

This was plainly evident at a special meeting held in the Board of Trade rooms on Monday evening. Over 40 people were in attendance, including members of the Kelowna Board of Trade, the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce and representatives from the surrounding district.

All in attendance were volunteers, devoting many hours later to completion of the survey. Herebefore the government has not had the information they required to encourage the industrial expansion of various areas of the province.

Now, when a prospective industrialist asks the government for the total dollar valuation of any particular commodity imported into the valley, they will be able to give an approximate estimate of the figure involved. If further investigations reveal there is a sufficient market in a given area, for a factory, for instance, then one would be established in a central location like Kelowna, Kelowna is in the heart of zone three, which takes in the Okanagan valley, the Similkameen, and the Kettle valley.

Canvassed District

Tuesday and Wednesday were busy days for chairman and their committees as they made a canvass of the district.

MRS. A. LENTZ PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Pearl Belsie Lentz, wife of Alexander Lentz, 950 Coronation Avenue, died in hospital here on Friday, Jan. 19, in her 63rd year. Born in Bowdel, South Dakota, she came to Kelowna three years ago from Edmonton.

Rev. F. E. Husker, First United Church, officiated at the funeral this afternoon from the chapel of Day's Funeral Service. Interment was in Kelowna cemetery.

Active in First United Church work, the late Mrs. Lentz leaves, besides her husband, one daughter, Mrs. A. (Alberta) Snyder, Edmonton, and one grandchild, Donald.

Major Change Made In Hockey Playoffs

Valley Finals Take Form Round-Robin Series

MAINLINE-OKANAGAN Amateur Hockey play-off this season will take the form of a round-robin series with a best-of-three final between the two teams that end on top.

This was one of the major decisions finally reached after a lengthy, drawn-out league meeting at Kamloops yesterday. Representatives from Kelowna, Vernon, Kamloops, Nanaimo and Kerrisdale decided to adopt minor schedule changes and arrange playoffs so that an MOAHL winner would be decided by March 19.

The schedule will be so arranged so as to end by February 24 instead of March 1. Change was necessitated by the recent announcement setting Allan Cup inter-provincial playoffs to come off sooner than anticipated in this league.

When the original playoff dates were given out by the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association, this league had been asked to declare a winner to play the Western International League champions by March 17.

The present plan, approved at the meeting Sunday, is to have this inter-league championship play for the B.C. title start by March 19, two days later.

While the setback hasn't been officially approved, it is believed it will be, largely on the say so of Doug Grimston, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, who was present at the meeting.

Grimston was asked to extend the deadline for declaring a B.C. winner to March 20. Previously it was to have been completed by March 17. Grimston said he would do his utmost to see the request was granted.

Delegates felt with the extension to March 20 and with the revised schedule (that ends at Feb. 24 instead of March 1) the league could stand the reserve account.

Actual expenditure last year amounted to $27,668.11 was transferred to stand the reserve account.

Well Known City Resident Walter Hamilton Passes

A WELL-KNOWN Kelowna pioneer, fruit rancher and community worker, Walter Andrew Hamilton, died in the Kelowna General Hospital Sunday at the age of 70 years. He had been suffering from a heart ailment for the past two months.

Born in Ballywater, Northern Ireland, July 5, 1880, he came to Canada 46 years ago, residing at Winnipeg. Four years later he moved to Kelowna where he was engaged in the fruit packing-house business. Mr. Hamilton was a charter member of the Orchard City Lodge No. 519 I.O.O.F. when it was formed in February, 1909, and was a prominent member of the Rotary Club. He was an old and respected member of the St. George's Lodge, No. 41, B.C.R., A.F. and A.M.

After he moved here from Winnipeg, where he was connected with the Ottawa Fruit Co., Mr. Hamilton became associated with the late Byron McDonald in the old Kelowna Lake, at the foot of Bernard Avenue.

Formed Growers' Company

Later Mr. Hamilton, along with Mr. McDonald, William Harvey, Harry Davies and Harry Preston formed the B.C. Growers Ltd. around 1915. They sold out to the Associated Growers in 1923, and in 1925, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. McDonald and Oliver Jennings formed the re-organized B.C. Orchards Ltd., and purchased the KLO Orchards (Kelowna Land and Orchard Co.) and operated as independent shippers.

Mr. McDonald later sold his interest in the shipping business to Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Jennings, and a few years later, the deceased sold his share in the shipping company and took over Mr. Jennings' share in the orchards. Mr. Hamilton was associated for some time with Leo Hayes in the Kelowna Orchards and later disposed of his interests to Mr. Hayes.

He retired about 12 years ago, but in recent years, took an active part in the operation of the senior citizens' home where he was chairman of the board of management. Besides being a prominent politician, he was also a member of the city council on the shores of Okanagan.

New Officers Of Kelowna Kiwanis Club Installed

Malcolm Chapin was installed as president of the local Kiwanis Club on Friday evening at a dinner meeting held in the Canadian Legion auditorium. The installation officer was Lt. Governor L. E. Graham, of Osoyoos, who also installed the following officers: secretary, Rev. D. Perley; treasurer, N. H. Olden; directors, H. Armentau, Ross Donaldson, E. Greenaway, F. Griffin, D. Hayward, Dr. T. J. Hackle and S. Weston.

The installation ceremony was dignified and impressive. Lt. Governor Graham spoke briefly on the aims and objectives of Kiwanis, emphasizing that during the coming year the theme of the organization's work is based upon the statement "Freedom is not Free."

Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games welcomed the out-of-town guests, while Ross Donaldson proposed the toast to the ladies and Mrs. J. Murray replied.

During the dinner Mrs. M. Hall and Mrs. E. Jensen supplied instrumental music while Ken Campbell presented two piano solos.

Following the dinner, club members and their guests were joined by a number of friends to conclude the evening dancing.

IN THE NAVY

The Canadian Navy, and particularly the three RCN destroyers—Cayuga, Sioux and Athabaskan—that have been serving in Korean waters are getting fan mail from various parts of Canada and from England following the destroyers' work in supporting the U.S. Eighth Army's withdrawal from Chinnampo early in December.

Letters of congratulation addressed to the ship, to the commanding officer, and other officers and men have reached H.M.C.S. Cayuga, senior ship of the Canadian division. One of the most recent arrivals was from a kindly lady in south England who showed her appreciation of the Canadian effort by sending a parcel containing scarves, mitts and toques and requesting that these be accepted as her thanks for a "job well done."

The three Canadian destroyers supported the evacuation of more than 7,000 army and civilian personnel from Chinnampo, port for the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. In addition to the three RCN ships, units of the Australian and United States navies took part. The entire operation was commanded by a Canadian—Captain Jeffrey V. Brock, of Winnipeg and Vancouver.

IN THE AIR FORCE

More than 100 young aircrew students from five European nations are working towards their wings at RCAF flying stations, evidence of one of Canada's contributions towards collective security under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The airman, a fledgling pilot and navigator from Norway, the Netherlands, Belgium, France and Italy, and are scheduled to receive their wings this spring.

The pilots, who slightly outnumber the navigators, are taking the regular basic flying training given by the RCAF at its No. 1 Flying Training School at Centralia, Ont. Pilot instruction is not limited to actual flying, and includes sessions in the link trainer, which simulates flying conditions without leaving the ground, and courses in airman's meteorology, navigation, and communications.

Navigation training is given at the Air Navigation School at Summerside, on Prince Edward Island. The student navigators go through an arduous and complex course qualifying them to guide an aircraft, supplementing their ground classroom work by airborne training in specially-fitted Dakota aircraft.

Before going to Centralia or Summerside the students take a six-week pre-flight course at London, Ont. Purpose of the pre-flight training is to minimize handicaps which might result from sudden entry into the intensive aircrew training courses under conditions unfamiliar to the students from abroad. Included in this training is a short technical vocabulary training, for misunderstandings in the air concerning the instructor's directions could prove dangerous.

The training scheme is on a small scale but it represents a big idea. The students are not only learning about Canada, but in most cases are learning first-hand about one another.

For most of them it is their first opportunity to get to know young men of their own age from those nations which would likely be allied with theirs in event of war. The leaders of the NATO nations have pointed out the obvious necessity for the member nations learning to act as a team in the overall defence setup. The aircrew boys being trained in Canada are doing just that. Once actual training begins, there are no varying nationalities at Centralia or Summerside; there are merely student pilots or navigators, all treated alike.

When the young men from the five nations represented return home they'll take more with them than a set of gleaming new wings and an understanding of Canada and its people. They'll take with them a understanding of their comrades from other European nations. It will be an understanding of the sort that all the NATO nations will be counting on if war comes.

Probably the northernmost Masonic lodge in Canada is the one at RCAF Station, Goose Bay, Labrador. Although just approaching its first anniversary of its foundation, Polaris Lodge (No. 114 A.F. & A.M.) has a unique history that dates back almost three years.

Its membership was to include Air Force and Department of Transport personnel not only in Labrador, but also in Newfoundland which at the time was not part of the Dominion of Canada. Application for dispensation to form the lodge had to be made to the Grand Lodge of England, the ruling body of Masons in Newfoundland, which eventually waived all jurisdiction rights in favor of the Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia.

Before a new application could be forwarded to the home body, a fire destroyed Goose Bay's recreation hall and with it, all records and correspondence pertaining to the formation of the lodge. At the same time many of the leading Masons were posted to other stations.

Finally, after renewed negotiations, Polaris Lodge was founded and was granted its warrant at Amagolis Royal, N.S.

At the ancient Ceremony of Consecration and Dedication of the lodge at Goose Bay, 38 representatives of lodges in Canada, the United States and Scotland were present for the installation of officers, who under the direction of "the W.M." Flying Officer L. Fallis, had been chiefly responsible for creation of Polaris, No. 114.

IN THE ARMY

Their mothers taught them to remove their hats and rubbers before entering a house. And they haven't forgotten.

Canadian soldiers stationed in the Far East are finding out—sometimes to their embarrassment—that in Korea, that's not enough. South Koreans, in their quiet and friendly manner, insist that they also remove their boots and puttees before crossing the threshold. They do so themselves, changing into slippers. Canadians accepting the hospitality of a Korean home, waltz around in their socks.

As one soldier put it, "This is no place in which to kick about the condition of a house."

The Army has now gone back to "basic training"—that is, in name only. The more cumbersome phrase "general military training" (GMT) has now gone out the window.

When referring to recruit training, Army Headquarters has ruled, the wartime term "basic training" will be used. Since the war most army personnel have consistently used the phrase "general military training" to designate preliminary instruction given recruits.

Similarly, NCOs known as General Military Training Instructors now will be referred to as "Instructors, Basic Training."

PLAN $35,000 IMPROVEMENTS VERNON BANK

VERNON—An extensive improvement program, at a cost of approximately $35,000, will be undertaken on the Vernon premises of the Bank of Montreal.

W. H. Rakke, the bank's superintendent in British Columbia, made this important announcement while in Vernon this week attending the annual meeting of the B.C. F.G.A.

"As the result of the continued growth of Vernon and the consequent expansion of business, the bank's present premises have become cramped and inadequate, besides being out of date in appointments," Mr. Rakke declared.

"An extensive improvement program involving the entire replanning of the interior of the building has been under consideration for some time and I am glad to say it has been approved."

The changes will include modern counters and fixtures, a suspended acoustical ceiling, recessed lighting, new flooring, and redecoration throughout. The old unused vault will be removed to provide more staff space, obsolete furniture replaced, and the basement entirely remodelled for comfortable staff rooms and larger storage.

Plans are now being prepared by architects and work is planned to start during the coming summer.

REASONS WHY MILITARY observers are inclined to take a dim view of the French position in Indo-China are apparent on the maps above. The long-term balance is still against the French, they believe, with the Reds holding the strategic initiative.

Anglican Church Names New Officers For Year

A steady growth in the number of families associated with the church and in Sunday school membership, was indicated in a report, published, J. H. Moore, retired from the office and K. R. Wood, was elected to the position. The rector, Ven. D. S. Catchpole, at the parish supper and annual meeting of the vestry of St. Michael and All Angels' Church, held last Wednesday evening. Reports on the year's work by the various officers were heard by the 150 parish members present.

Treasurer, C. M. Horner, presented the financial statement, and reported that all accounts in connection with the church and the new parish hall had been met. He stressed the need for additional income if payments on interest and capital were to be made as they fell due. Both O. St. P. Aitkens and Peter Murdoch contributed to the discussion, with the result that although the note of urgency was clearly heard there was also the underlying harmony of confidence that the congregation was capable of rising to the emergency.

Rev. W. S. Brown reported on his endeavors in the field of children's and young people's work.

SIX MILLION BOXES APPLES PROCESSED

B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., handled a total of 6,000,000 boxes of apples during the past five years which otherwise would have been discarded.

R. P. Walrod, manager of the processing plant made this statement Wednesday morning during the discussion of the annual report presented a few minutes earlier by president A. G. Desbrisay at the annual convention of the BCFGA in Vernon.

Experiments conducted in the past few years have been very successful, Mr. Walrod said, and every effort is being made to make use of surplus apples.

Questioned as to whether the fruit processing company works in close co-operation with the laboratory at Summerland, Mr. Walrod replied in the affirmative. "But," he added, "everything done at the Dominion Experimental Farm is of public property, and there are certain experiments that we do not want to become public knowledge."

Mr. Desbrisay said 1949-50 season was a record one for B.C. Fruit Processors and final figures were consistent with those forecast at the convention last year. Total apples processed amounted to 24,000 tons, and sales for the year amounted to $1,428,200, an increase of 44 percent over the previous high.

The company paid $6.04 per ton for culls. The proportion paid in cash was returned through the shipper for redistribution to the individual growers, and certificates of indebtedness issued direct by the company for the balance. In addition, over $70,000 was paid into the apple pool in payment for diverted commercial tonnage and all normal annual charges against the business, earned in full.

Mr. Desbrisay said the certificates of indebtedness will be redeemed at face value, plus accrued interest at or before date of maturity.

After several years as people's wardens, during which time much constructive work had been accomplished, J. H. Moore, retired from the office and K. R. Wood, was elected to the position. The rector, Ven. D. S. Catchpole, at the parish supper and annual meeting of the vestry of St. Michael and All Angels' Church, held last Wednesday evening. Reports on the year's work by the various officers were heard by the 150 parish members present.

"Elected as lay delegates to Synod which will meet this year in Kelowna were: E. G. M. Gardner, C. M. Horner and Mayor W. B. Hughes. Games, alternates being K. R. Wood, R. J. Marshall and J. H. Moore.

The church committee for 1951 is composed of G. Y. L. Crossley, Trevor Pickering, J. H. Moore, C. M. Horner, R. J. Marshall, A. C. Poole, C. T. Hubbard, O. St. P. Aitkens, C. A. Bruce, H. G. M. Gardner, and W. Fletcher, the clergy and wardens being members ex-officio.

Referring to the fire which destroyed the dehydrating plant two days before it was scheduled to start operating in September, he said the plant was rebuilt and operations started five weeks later. Final adjustment of insurance covering the fire has not yet been made.

Sales from September to December 31 totalled $370,659 compared with $424,887 for the same period last year. Decrease was due to reduced dehydrated apple sales. Movement of other products has been satisfactory.

Referring to the suggestion that surplus commercial fruit may be diverted to processing plants in the event of a large crop, Mr. Desbrisay said: "... It is not impossible that we may find ourselves unable to accept surplus diversions if held strictly to our prime responsibility to utilize all culls. A situation can be foreseen, which at best would cause considerable embarrassment and, at worst, render it impossible for the processing company to accept commercial diversions because it had already employed all of its financial resources and manufacturing facilities in a full inventory derived from culls, or the commodities for which there is a market.

"Should such a situation be deemed undesirable, then re-examination of our functions in relation to the best interests of the industry may be in order. Rather than sit idly by until faced with such an alternative, there would appear to be merit in having a committee set up to settle this question and to bring in a recommendation to the next convention. It is quite probable that a revised formula for financing would also have to be found.

"It has become increasingly clear to our board of directors and the thought has been repeatedly expressed by them and others that factoring facilities in relation to the sales agency; requirements over and above diversions of commercial fruit would then be drawn from cull accumulations. In this case the total proceeds would accrue to the general pool and the unused culls be discarded."

BOY SCOUT COLUMN

ASSOCIATION GENERAL MEETING

The Central Okanagan Boy Scout Association new executive, elected at the annual general meeting January 12, consists of the following: president, Mr. Bob Grant; vice-president, Mr. Percy McCallum; secretary-treasurer, Mr. John Jamieson; executive, Messrs. D. Reed, Pollock, Moore, Simpson and Dr. Henderson.

This fine body of gentlemen will direct the activities of scouting in the district and with them behind the troops and packs we can face the future with confidence. A more detailed report of the annual general meeting appeared in this paper last week.

MR. NIGEL POOLEY

Our president for the last three years has handed over his duties to Mr. R. Grant. He did so partly because of business reasons and partly because he feels that responsibilities of high office in any organization should rotate and not remain the indefinite burden of any one person. As he withdraws to a less prominent role in scouting we know that we can count on his continued support and interest.

Every leader and every boy in the organization can have nothing but respect and immense gratitude to Mr. Nigel Pooley for the long hours and hard work that he has put in on their behalf. The office of president carries no reward and includes none of the pleasures and fun of scouting. It has its full share of the worries and responsibilities and entails all the essential background work which ensures the progressive advancement of scouting.

Mr. Pooley took over shortly after the war when the whole organization was struggling to get oriented once more. During his regime there has been a steady progress and increase and a firm foundation for the future has been laid. There have been many disappointments and setbacks but as he leaves office he can have the satisfaction of knowing that he leaves a much stronger and better organized body than when he took over. This progress is a measure of the calm, patient and courageous man who now hands over the helm.

A NEW SCOUT

As the head of the organization leaves the top rung we welcome a new Scout to the bottom rung of scouting—David Murdoch who joins the First Kelowna Troop from the First Kelowna Pack.

THIRD KELOWNA PACK

The Third Kelowna Pack is continuing to meet at 4 p.m. every Saturday at Mrs. McKay's home, 289 Harvey Avenue.

WESTBANK W.I. ALARMED OVER SURVEY PARTIES

Trees at Brigade Trail Cairn Removed Without Consulting Caretakers

WESTBANK—Westbank Women's Institute members are distressed over the recent disturbance of the group of evergreens planted by them last spring as a background for the Hudson's Bay Brigade Trail cairn. This planting has been more or less broken up as a result of survey work connected with No. 9 Indian Reserve cut-off at Westbank.

The cairn was erected by the Historic Sites Board, Ottawa, and before its building, a representative of that board, together with an engineer of the provincial department of public works and officers of the Okanagan Historical Society, met on the spot to agree on the cairn site. Following its erection and unveiling, the cairn and its care was entrusted to Westbank Women's Institute and at its request the Historic Sites Board provided evergreens as a means of beautifying the spot. During last spring and summer Institute members and others faithfully shaded and watered the young planting and set up a fence for its protection in order to give the trees a good start.

Institute members resent the action of, presumably, government employees who, lacking in common courtesy and showing no sign of co-operation by contacting those responsible for the planting, uproot one tree and set it back haphazardly where it cannot remain—even should it survive the treatment it has received—shovel earth over other shrubs and leave the fence in disrepair, all for the purpose of sinking a cement post. The Institute has no argument about the necessity of the post in this particular spot. But had the Institute been notified, the committee in charge of the cairn would gladly have re-arranged for planting to conform with survey requirements.

Problem to Handle

Members feel that had careless youngsters been responsible they would know what to do about it, but how to cope with adults in responsible positions is another matter. Following survey parties, they feel, are akin to "Tennyson's" "brook" and "go on forever," and such being the case the advent of spring is likely to also see the advent of another survey party who will decide that the work of the former surveyors must be done all over again, with the result that the cairn planting will not be safe from destroying hands even in future. As one member questioned, "Of what use to hope to develop a sense of civic pride when not even government employees show regard for what a community tries to do?"

This damage to the cairn planting has come up for discussion at the past two Institute meetings. At the January meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. A. C. Hoskins it was revealed that the Kelowna office of the public works department had no knowledge of the survey party's work. On further investigation it appeared that the survey was conducted by the provincial department of lands, and the Institute secretary, Mrs. A. Fearnley, was instructed to write to Victoria regarding the matter.

At this meeting the apparent general laxity in maintaining mild cases of sore throat was brought up and Mrs. W. H. H. Moffatt was appointed to contact the public health nurse or the teaching staff regarding cases in this community.

Send Parcel Overseas

The Valentine Tea usually held in February by W.W.I. will not be held on the usual date owing to the absence of several members of the directorate. A tea and evening entertainment will be arranged later on, a portion of which proceeds will, as usual, go to the Kelowna Hospital funds.

Members had hoped to have the pleasure of a talk by Miss D. B. M. Johnstone of the social service branch at Kelowna. Miss Johnstone, unable to be present at the January meeting will address a future gathering.

Another parcel, this time to contain some 20 pounds of meats, shortening and tea, will go forward soon to Westbank Institute's adopted Institute in England.

REPORT SHOWS SODICA STRONG FINANCIALLY

At their first meeting this year, the board of directors of the SODICA organization, Vernon, reviewed the financial position. Total current assets at December 31, 1950 were given as over $200,000. These were cash, merchandise, accounts receivable, prepaid expenses, etc. Fixed assets which consist of land, buildings, equipment and trucks were on the books at $255,420. Total assets of this dairy farmers co-operative group exceed $455,000. Current liabilities, mostly owed to the dairy farmers themselves for milk and cream in December, were only $68,334.

For every dollar the dairy co-op. members owed themselves for December milk and cream, they had between $7 and $8. This was patching. Mrs. D. Gellatly was appointed to fill the vacancy on the directorate caused by the resignation of Mrs. W. H. H. Moffatt.

thought to be a very strong and safe financial position. The settling rate for milk shippers for the month of December was fixed at $4.45 per cwt. for 4% milk. The differential was 5.5 cents for each 1/10 of test. This means that 3.5% milk was worth $1.19 per pound buttermilk to the farmer.

The neighbors remember how sick young Donny was a few months ago, and how worried the Browns were. But they never guessed what a serious drain his illness had been on the family purse.

Wisely, the Browns had made it a rule to put something into their savings account, week by week, almost from the day they were married. So when they consulted their bank manager, their credit was good. With the help of a small bank loan, they were able to pay all their bills promptly. Now Donny is healthy again—and so is their bank account.

N.S. Growers Will Vote On Central Selling Plan

KENTVILLE, N.S.—The Nova Scotia Marketing Board will be asked to hold a plebiscite to determine what sort of a marketing organization Valley apple growers favor. The plebiscite is to follow tabulation of results from a questionnaire to be sent to all growers.

This was decided at a joint meeting of the directors of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association and the secretaries of its local recently.

The directorate want the plebiscite to be held as soon as possible, but not before growers get some idea of the returns on this year's crop.

After a very thorough discussion, the meeting decided to insert the questionnaire in the resolution, because this was the only feasible way to find out what should go on the ballot for the plebiscite. A committee was appointed from the chair to draft the questionnaire and present it to the directors.

The president introduced the subject of a plebiscite and asked for opinions before a motion was made. This produced one of the most thorough discussions ever held on the subject. One point stressed strongly was the need of an educational program through meetings and forums in each community, to tell the people how the board was formed, what it is all about, and what it is doing. Not only would this help a lot in the plebiscite, but it would help to combat propaganda against the board.

Chance To Do Without It
D. D. Sutton thought a plebiscite was needed "to give all growers who do not get to meetings a chance to voice their opinion, and to save ill feelings and bitterness because the plebiscite was called off last year. A lot will not be satisfied until it is proved that the board will not work, and the only way to do this, is to give them a chance to do without it for a while."

Make Province Open Market
M. K. Ellis, who spoke in favor of the plebiscite, stated: "I never thought much of policing the sale of apples right from the grower to the consumer, and 'all our criticism has come from within the province.' He would like to see Nova Scotia thrown open as far as the sale of fresh fruit is concerned. One-third of our fresh fruit is sold in the province. With the board having control of the two-thirds exported outside the province, the industry would be kept safe; to throw it all open would lead to destruction, he said."

The secretary, R. D. Sutton, told the meeting that local markets can not be kept separate. Selling to jobbers and truckers and telling them to stay out of towns and cities, he considers, will not work.

Gordon Banks brought up the subject of a questionnaire, wanting it to be very complete, and stating "We must know what the people want." He was supported by E. M. Leonard, who stated: "We should

TERRIFIC PUNCH AT END

Peppery Packers Electrify Full House as Paul's Gamble Fails

KELOWNA 7, KAMLOOPS 4

TRUST Paul Thompson to throw the book and everything that goes with it when he shows up here against the peppery Kelowna Packers!

Every seat in Memorial Arena had a twitching hockey fan on the edge of it and scores more stood around with wobbly knees as impressario Thompson directed a thrill-packed ice drama that had a surprise ending—even to the gambling mentor himself.

Paul's Elks went down 7-4, fighting every inch of the way to a team every bit as good—and in this case a little bit scrappier and more opportunistic. A three-goal lead was piled up by Bill MacKenzie's hustling Packers in three minutes from the start of the game, turned out to be the margin of victory.

The Orchard City boys were never behind—but the story of how the Elks tried to catch up unfolded the fastest, classicist and most nerve-pounding puck display seen here yet.

Start of Climax

In themselves the first and second periods were of a better than usual calibre, but as it turned out they couldn't hold a candle to the last 15 minutes of the game.

The buildup to the frenzied 15 minutes of humdrum hockey came when Frank Hoskins was meted a five-minute penalty for accidentally hitting Bernie Bathgate in the face when trying to trap the puck by flicking up his (Bathgate's) stick.

That was a five-minute span the Packers long will remember. Steadily mounting pressure and scares by the carload failed to dent the Packers or pierce the stout armor of their net ace, Roy McMeekin. Kelowna still had the same lead 5-3 when Hoskins returned to the ice.

A few moments later, with five and a half minutes left to go, Thompson pulled goaler Lorne Lussier off and threw on six forwards in an all-out attempt to trim down that two-goal lead. Three times the crowd nearly passed out, as the Packers broke loose from a series of pitched battles around McMeekin's fortress to take the offensive even to the point of swarming around the Elks' goal mouth, but somehow they couldn't get the puck in.

Back-fired Twice

But it finally came. Hoskins pounced on the puck at centre ice and shot true to hike the count to 6-3. Lussier went back dejectedly to his post then and Thompson's temperature dropped two degrees.

When Harvey Stein flipped a puck from a scrambled egg mixture into the Kelowna net less than two minutes later, Thompson again began to look for a chance to try his strategy. The opportunity came a half minute later with only 90 seconds left to go.

Lussier was off for about a minute and things seemed to be going none too well for director Thompson. The Packers just wouldn't stay bottled up.

Then 10 seconds later, with only 20 seconds remaining, the finish—was written. Tenuous Bud Evans hit the puck near the red line and with three Elks draped all over him managed to send a drifter that eased by the right side of the post with only inches to spare to sew up the game at 7-4.

FIZZED FLURRIES—Nary a KELOWNA or KAMLOOPS booster went home without proclaiming the encounter as an all-time 'high in speed, try and thrills'. Only six penalties were imposed, four of them to two duos for roughing. Shots on goal were 12-7 and 9-8 in the Packers' favor in the first two periods and 11-6 for ELKS in the finale. Total 27-26 for Kelowna. The dynamic DDK line scored goals in both the first and second halves at the 40-second mark and had two goals within 1.29 of the first period.

All the game's goals were singletons with Packer MIKE DURBAN and FRANK HOSKINS leading the way with one goal and two assists each. DON CAMPBELL and GUNNAR CARLSON picked up a goal and an assist each to pace the ELKS. So almost identical at times as GORDON SUNDIN and BUD EVANS, the former was credited for the latter's goal that sent PAUL THOMPSON reeling on his heels for the second time.

"It sure was a nice one to win," commented BILL MACKENZIE simply, restraining his enthusiasm with difficulty. The win boosted the Packers into second behind idle NANAIMO CLIPPERS and dropped Elks to third.

Elks Wallop Packers 8-1 To Regain Second Place

(Special to The Kelowna Courier)

KAMLOOPS—Kamloops Elks hauled themselves back into second place in the MOAHL standings here Saturday night when they handed Kelowna Packers an 8-1 drubbing in a fast, rugged game played before a full house.

Although they had an edge in the play in every period, the Elks managed only a 1-0 lead at the end of the first due mainly to the matchless work of Roy McMeekin in the Kelowna cage. They ran the lead to 5-0 in the second and outscored the visitors 3-1 in the third.

Jim Lowe spoiled Lorne Lussier's bid for his second shutout when he rapped in Bud Evans rebounded at the 15:27 mark of the third period. Harvey Stein led the Elks with two goals and three assists. Bud Andrews also tallied a brace while Mike Fischer, Don Campbell, Ken Stewart and Pete Wywrot got the others.

There were eight penalties handed out in the first period resulting in the Packers' favor in the time playing short-handed. Both squads had a short stretch when they were two men short. However, no goals resulted from the penalties.

The players settled down to hockey in the second frame when only three minutes were left. The Elks broke loose for five more in the third, with Don Campbell and Jim Middleton leading the parade with majors for fighting.

Lussier, brilliant in the Kamloops net, robbed Mike Durban from point-blank range on two occasions.

Doug Grimston, New Westminster, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, and Gerry Thompson, Trail, president of the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association, watched the game. They were here to attend a special MOAHL meeting Sunday.

STUDY EUROPEAN HARE'S HABITS

Introduction of the European hare was mooted by a Wood Lake resident in a letter to the Kelowna and District Rod and Gun Club.

If Wachsenick's suggestion the hare be brought in for hunting purposes seemed to have merit, but whether it would go across with orchardists may be another thing.

Wachsenick has been invited to attend the next KDGRC executive meeting to explain the habits of the hare.

LUMBY DEFEATS JUVE PACKERS

D. Ward paced the Lumby Juveniles to a close 4-3 win over the Kelowna Juvenile Packers in an exhibition game here on Friday.

Ward scored three of his team's goals and assisted on the other.

B. Williams, W. Blaisdale and Frank Setzler were the Kelowna snipers.

START TUESDAY HOCKEY EARLIER

In order to devote more time to public skating, Minor Hockey night on Tuesday will begin one hour earlier. Midget game starts at 6 o'clock and juvenile fixture at 7:30.

PATS WIN IN DEFAULT

Pats were declared winners in the scheduled juvenile hockey league yesterday when the Grizzlies failed to show up in sufficient strength to play the game.

NO ARMISTICE

Canada wages an unceasing war on contagious diseases. By having all children immunized, they can be protected against such killer diseases as whooping cough, diphtheria and smallpox. It should not be forgotten that immunization against tetanus (commonly called lockjaw) is available and can usually be given at the same time as those for the contagious diseases.

Public Works Engineer At Penticton Resigns, Charging 'Interference'

PENTICTON—John Davies, city superintendent, has resigned his duties and has already left the civic staff. His resignation was handed in at last week's council meeting and was accepted.

Later in the week, it was announced R. A. Barton, an engineer, and long-time resident of Penticton, had been retained by the city in his professional capacity to assist in the engineering department.

So has Harry A. Blakeborough, of Kelowna, who for some time has been employed as a consultant in the city's water-works program. A retired Kelowna city engineer, Mr. Blakeborough will supervise the placing of pipe in the water at the lake shore in the program that is now proceeding.

Mr. Davies has been identified with the city staff since the fall of 1948 when he was made an assistant to the engineer, W. E. Warburton. He was made acting superintendent in July, 1949, when Mr. Warburton resigned.

His resignation was conveyed to council in a letter in which he blamed his action on "adverse criticism and unwarranted interference from the city clerk."

The letter, in full, is reprinted at the end of this article. Mr. Davies tendered the resignation "effective one month from the date of this letter."

But council in accepting the resignation, waived the notice, agreeing to pay him up until February 15.

No Holidays

The motion of acceptance was made by Alderman Haddleton, and endorsed by the council.

In making this motion, Alderman Haddleton made it quite clear that there would be no need for the superintendent to put in his month's extra duties.

"But I'm leaving a tremendous amount of work," interjected Mr. Davies, "and I don't want to go like that."

He also mentioned that he had not received his holidays in 1950. He asked, last year, that he might consolidate such holidays into what was taken this year.

"You are entitled by law to your holidays or holiday pay and that will be taken care of," replied the mayor.

"This, then, will mean that Mr. Davies is not required to come to work in the morning," asked H. G. Andrew, the city clerk.

He was told that this was council's feeling in the matter.

Mr. Davies, who had attended the meeting up to that point, shortly thereafter filled his brief case, and strode from the room.

Before he went, however, Mr. Andrew made a brief reply, responding to the attack that had been made on him in Mr. Davies' letter.

"I have been personally attacked in public by this letter," remarked Mr. Andrew, "and I feel I must say one or two things. What Mr. Davies says is untrue. But I will leave it at this—the real reasons why Mr. Davies is handing in his resignation are well known to all council members, present and past."

In a subsequent statement to the Herald, moreover, the mayor said "During the past months, my position here as superintendent has he wished it made perfectly clear that "the council has perfect confidence in its city clerk, who has been carrying out council instructions and carrying them out properly."

His Worship recalled that, in 1949 the council at that time had found itself running out of money because there was no adequate control of a budgetary nature. The clerk was instructed to act as comptroller.

And his instructions have never been changed," the mayor declared.

Before Monday night's meeting ended, the mayor, with the city clerk, and Alderman Harris, were named to take steps to secure a permanent replacement.

Will Advise

"We have roads, sewerage, drainage, waterworks, and irrigation problems," the mayor pointed out, "and there should be no delay in seeking the replacement."

Alderman Haddleton said that he would like to see "the fullest advertising" for a competent qualified engineer, "calling for fullest references."

He laid further stress on the value of "as wide a publication in calling for a successor as possible," and there should be no delay in seeking the replacement.

There was little further discussion, but there seemed to be agreement that the council would seek a man of as high qualifications as it could secure, and was mindful of the probability of paying substantially for such services.

Just before the resignation discussion at Monday night's meeting, and even after the letter of resignation had been read, Mr. Davies was involved in the presentation of routine reports.

There was also the presentation of his special report on the Penticton creek situation, in which he warned that danger, under present conditions, always existed.

He recommended certain remedial steps in creek work and, in particular, a controlled pipe by-pass diverting into Ellis Creek.

Council took no official position on this report, its chief attention being fixed on the letter of resignation, which had been read a few minutes earlier.

That letter, addressed to the mayor and council, was as follows:

Mr. Davies' Letter
During the past months, my position here as superintendent has become increasingly difficult, not through the pressure of work, but rather from the adverse criticism and unwarranted interference from the City Clerk.

"When I took over office a year and a half ago, there was no organization whatsoever in the Engineering Department. Operations for the most part muddled along and reliable records and a system of administration was non-existent.

I have, during this period, spent a tremendous volume of time in formulating and drawing up a system of administration and control whereby necessary information could be compiled and set on record so as to give us the necessary data to produce the information required for reconstruction work to be carried out in future. Up until this time there was no system of formulating costs of carrying out work, nor has there been satisfactory means of checking upon this work, stage-by-stage as it is carried out.

Much of the time and money that have been made in the past have been largely due to the fact that these figures have not been available to the person responsible for formulating or estimating the various projects. It is just a matter of time before, but rather a necessary means of determining exactly what it costs to carry out certain projects stage-by-stage. A system to determine these facts I have set up at the beginning of this year, and with the service of a man who proved himself most capable of carrying out my requirements, has now been transferred from my department to the City Clerk's office. I have repeatedly requested for an addition to my staff, as the increasing work of filing and keeping up these new records necessitates more help, but I have not received it. Moreover, my staff has been reduced while that of the front office is increased upon request. There have been numerous occasions when letters have been received on business pertaining to my office and have been filed without my having first being made acquainted with their contents, and other engineering matters have been transmitted to and from the City Clerk's office without first being brought to my attention. With a method such as this where there are too many people doing one man's job, it is impossible for me to carry out my task efficiently.

"Certain members of the council have complained that orders have not been carried out as quickly as would have been desired, and I might remind them that with one girl who has to spend a large amount of the time answering queries from the public, both in person and over the phone, which is almost continual throughout the day, makes it very hard for her to complete the work she has to do within the day, but it seems that the City Clerk is determined to run my office as well as his own, and that the council finds it desirable to receive information regarding matters for which I am responsible from the City Clerk; I feel that my services and efforts carried out in the city's interests are of no avail. I therefore feel, in view of these facts, that I am left with no alternative, but to tender my resignation effective one month from the date of this letter."

The cold that starts with chills and turns to feverishness with pains in the limbs may be just a common cold or it may be the onset of flu. Consult your doctor, especially if it is a child who is ill since these symptoms often indicate one of the contagious diseases.

BETTER FRUIT PRIZES GIVEN MOTHER, SON

Mrs. Louise Potter, of Oliver, is carrying on her 15-acre orchard in the best tradition of her late husband, H. N. "Happy" Potter, well known in fruit growing circles, and packing house manager of the Hayes Co-operative in Oliver.

Before more than 200 persons, Wednesday evening in the Allison Hotel, at Vernon, Mrs. Potter not only received Buckfield's, Limited silver tray for her "Better Fruit" entry at the Interior Provincial Exhibition last fall, but also received the beautiful J. R. J. Stirling Memorial Trophy for growers' sons and daughters under 19, for fruit entries in the fair, on behalf of her 10-year-old son, Gale, who is at home-ill.

The presentation was made at a dinner tendered by the Vernon Board of Trade to fruit growers.

"It is my hope I can keep the orchards for him," Mrs. Potter said in an interview. Gale is a grade three student.

Mrs. Potter runs her orchard on a share basis. "I do not know what I could do that would give me as good a living," she said. Her trees are about 22 years old, of mixed varieties. Her entry was for three plates of different fruits, which were Hale peaches, Bartlett pears and Delicious apples. She and Gale worked together, and his entry was almost identical, except that he entered D'Anjou pears. Mrs. Potter came fourth in the same competition in 1949. She gave a little extra attention to wrapping up the fruit for the journey, and brought it from Oliver to Armstrong in the back of her car. Mrs. Potter was born in Rosetown, Sask. When Arthur Laing, M.P., made the presentation to Mrs. Potter, he said this was the first time a woman had won this award. Ivor New-comer presented the tray, which is Gale's award, to his mother.

Your Protection...

... is the goal our department. With the money you pay through taxes, we strive to give you protection from health problems and social welfare troubles, while your hospital insurance premiums protect you from crippling hospital bills. This is accomplished by maintaining the...

● HEALTH BRANCH which provides such services as public health units in co-operation with local civic authorities, public health nurses, sanitary inspectors, tuberculosis clinics and care, venereal disease control, immunization, laboratory and other services. All of these are designed to protect your health.

● WELFARE BRANCH which makes available to you competent assistance through the services of trained social workers. There are also benefits such as social allowances, mothers' allowances, old age and blind pensions, child protection and adoption placements, and medical, optical and drug services as well as hospital care.

● HOSPITAL INSURANCE SERVICE which protects you from staggering hospital bills. While you are in hospital, this service covers the cost of public-ward accommodation, case-room and operating-room facilities, anaesthetics, dressings, ward nursing care, available X-ray, laboratory and physiotherapy facilities and hospital maternity care. The only requirement is that your premium be paid.

More About 2 VETERAN FERRY

Later I was with Admiral Craddock in the battle of Coronel in the "Glasgow." Serving with Captain John Luise, also, Goodie was present at the sinking of the Goodhope and Monmouth "where we got away with a hole in our side about 20 by 10 feet."

Continuing his adventures at sea, the 65-year-old sailor tells of taking part in the battle of Falkland Island where they sank the "Leipzig," later going in search of the "Dresden" and sinking her at Robinson Crusoe Island.

Leaving the navy in 1919, George Goodison spent several years in Sheffield as a street car conductor and a postman before coming to Canada in 1926 with his wife and family. After a year in Peachland, they moved to Kelowna, where they have since resided.

Mr. Goodison's two sons now operate Goodison Bros. Garage, on Pendozi Street. He has a daughter in Eastern Canada.

"Just an ordinary man" with "a lot of work to do yet," Goodie is now going to look for another job to keep himself occupied. With his retirement today marking the further passage of time, this colorful and picturesque character will be greatly missed by his colleagues on the boats as well as the traveling public.

It will be with regret mingled with good wishes for a peaceful retirement, that the crew will give him the "All Clear" tonight in the same stentorian voice he himself has used on so many occasions.

CHRISTENING AT VANCOUVER OF INTEREST

Of interest in Kelowna, former home of both the child's parents, and residence of his grandparents, who are Mr. E. G. Weddell, K.C., and Mrs. Weddell, and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Rutheford, was the christening ceremony at which the two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. H. Weddell, of Vancouver, was the principal.

The baby was the fourth generation to wear the paternal family christening robe, and he received the names Michael Rutheford from Rev. Col. C. C. Owen, who is godfather to Mr. Weddell.

The ceremony was performed at the officiating minister's home, when sponsors were Mr. E. J. D. Rutheford, great-uncle of the tiny principal, Miss Carol Nordman, and Mr. Brian Weddell, his uncle.

al government to establish Osoyoos, a port of entry for nursery stock.

Delegates also decided on a vigorous advertising program, particularly with the development of new markets and said publicity plans therefore should be flexible to meet the changing needs of the market. They passed a resolution designating that B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd., selling agency, can treat advertising expenditures as pool deductions with the proper proportion of costs charged to each commodity.

Jobless Insurance

In order to make sure that stone fruits and cantaloupe reach the retail outlets in fine condition, it was recommended that every effort should be made to have such produce shipped under refrigeration. This referred particularly to truckers who haul fruit to the fresh fruit market.

A resolution from the floor, dealt with unemployment insurance for farmers. Normally a farmer does not request jobless insurance, but in the case of many who were frozen out as a result of last winter's killing frost, some were forced to seek other means of employment.

C. R. Haker, Peachland, made the emphatic declaration that when a farmer got a job, he was no longer classed as a farmer by the Unemployment Insurance Commission, and had to pay insurance. Mr. Haker stated that when a man was laid off and sought unemployment insurance, he was then classed as a farmer, and could not collect although he had paid into the fund. He asked the delegates to vote for strong action "to have this gross injustice and inequality removed."

When some delegates doubted the veracity of this statement, Mr. Haker offered to give names of persons in his district unable to collect. He said there were at least 11 farmers so affected.

Accident Insurance

A Summary resolution asking that a committee be set up to study the best means of insulating accident insurance covering employees engaged in agricultural operations, was defeated. Max dePuyfer, Kelowna, said "It is not correct to say insurance is not available. The Workers' Compensation Insurance is available."

There was little argument over the resolution asking that the C.F.A. through the I.F.A.P. recommend that Food and Agriculture Organization invite the marketing and consumer co-operatives of the world to create a world surplus commodity co-operative to operate on a non-profit basis. It was passed unanimously.

A resolution asking for the reduction in motor vehicle licence and registration fees, was also carried, as was a resolution requesting the income tax department to change regulations so that no penalty or interest can be charged, unless the taxpayer has been notified of his error within one year of filing his return.

Members of the hall insurance committee were commended for their success in establishing a hall insurance scheme for growers. This scheme has proven highly successful in its first year of operation. Stope will be taken to have box shock companies stamp "this side up" on boxes. A resolution to this effect was passed by delegates. It was estimated this would probably boost the price of box shock by one quarter of a cent per box, but delegates thought this was worth while if it would improve the quality of product by the time it reached the consumer. It was explained due to incorrect piling of boxes, many apples are bruised by the time they arrive on the retail market.

A resolution submitted by South and East Kelowna locals asking that a B.C.F.G. Mutual Hall Insurance Company be approached to investigate the feasibility of introducing a co-operative on mutual fire insurance for the benefit of growers was also carried. The resolution was amended from the original form which asked a committee "investigate the feasibility of forming a Mutual Fire Insurance Company."

plete canvass of all businesses in the city and district. Roy Wignall, industries chairman of the Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce, Charlie Gaddes, industrial chairman of the Kelowna Board of Trade, and G. Y. L. Crosley, local government representative, received outstanding co-operation.

Stipulated forms made the survey an easy one and stamped, self-addressed envelopes were supplied. All the merchant had to do was to give an approximate estimate of the total dollar valuation of commodities purchased outside this area (zone 3) in 1950, and further state where it was purchased.

All information was strictly confidential and the firm's name was not required on the copy. Fill out, mail to "Victoria"—that was all it entailed.

Local firms were told what to do by the canvassers and facts such as the following were explained: "The survey is concerned only with purchases made OUTSIDE your regional area, the boundaries of which will be closely defined by a member of the local committee."

Column I (Dollar Value): It is extremely important to obtain the total dollar value of your purchases from outside the area by type of product. The finer the breakdown in purchases obtained the greater will be the usefulness of the survey. Your co-operation is asked, therefore, in itemizing your purchases under the various main headings and sub-headings wherever possible. If actual figures are not available for these various items a reasonable approximation will be sufficient.

Column II (Area of Purchase): In conjunction with dollar value, information also desired on the area from which your various purchases were made. In this connection your attention is directed to column 2 of the questionnaire. Here you should indicate from which of the following areas your purchases were made: (1) Coastal Area (Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster and surrounding areas), (2) Rest of British Columbia, (3) Rest of Canada (all of Canada excluding British Columbia), (4) U.S.A., (5) Elsewhere (all countries other than Canada and the U.S.A.). For each type of goods you purchase outside your area, state in column 2 from which of the above areas your purchases were made. Where one item is bought from more than one of these areas state the approximate percentage of your total purchases of that item made in each area."

VETS SEEKING NEW SECRETARY FOR LOCAL CLUB

Applications are now being received by the local branch of the Canadian Legion for the position of secretary-manager of the veterans' club.

W. J. Kane, who has held that position for several years, tendered his resignation at the end of last year, to be effective February 15. Mr. Kane will be employed by a local life insurance company. Applications will be reviewed February 2 and the appointment made February 15.

Now pay Yourself, too, on pay-day...with Personal Planning

HERE'S WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING ABOUT
Personal Planning

The B of M featured Personal Planning on a test basis at the Canadian National Exhibition last autumn. In two weeks, 27,000 people asked for a copy of the B of M's booklet on Personal Planning. Here are some of the comments these people have volunteered:—
"A very workable budget. Your service is appreciated."
"... wish we had started the plan long ago."
"Thank you so much for showing us the way to make a budget work. Have tried for a year with no success, but now I think we can really live and save with Personal Planning."
"The best yet."
"... appreciate commonsense method of handling money."
"Well idea."

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

Personal Planning is much more than just drawing up a budget. Budgets are often frustrating dog-collars. They usually tie you down and make life a very monotonous affair.

No, Personal Planning shows you how to live within your income and enjoy it. It's a complete financial program, cut from the pattern of your particular needs and problems.

Personal Planning won't help you make millions. But—given an honest chance—it will cure your 'day-after-pay-day blues.'

You'll learn how to make your budget work for you, instead of you working for it. And you'll also find that Personal Planning helps you realize your plans for tomorrow much sooner than you have dared to hope.
